CHICAGO'S WAIFS.

They Will be Given an Outing in Benton Harbor.

Dr. Henshaw, pastor of the Galilee Baptist church, of Chicago, has leased the dwelling at 272 Pavone street, this city, and will use it to shelter the hundreds of orphan, homeless and unfortunate children whom he has taken upon himself to comfort and whom he will give an outing of a week among the shades of St. Joseph river and on the beach of Lake Michigan.

Mr. Henshaw has leased the above premises for the summer and it will be occupied the season through by "fresh air" children from the metropolis across the lake. All that the dwelling will accommodate will be entertained and at the beginning of each week a new aggregation of the little folks will be received and those who have enjoyed a week in the fields, the orchards and the woods will return home. Mrs. Pelper, the matron of the home here, will arrive from Chicago tomorrow and get everything in condition for the reception of the children.

The various churches in the city are asked to contribute cots to sleep upon, bed clothing, dishes and provisions, if they choose, toward maintaining the home here. It is also asked that families, who desire to turn a ray of sunshine upon the lives of the pale-faced, forlorn-looking children by entertaining them in their own families for a week, shall send their names to Rev. George B. Simons or Dr. Henshaw.

The annual outing of Dr. Henshaw's proteges is a great event. It has a wonderfully wholesome effect upon the children, and is regarded by them as the dearest experiences of their unhappy lives. In other cities where the outings have been previously held the citizens gave the children rides in their private carriages, and many took one or more into their own homes and made them happy for a week.

THEY ANSWER BACK.

Defendants Get After Vice President Deam of the Benton Harbor Electric Railway

ACCUSE HIM OF MANY THINGS.

Charged That He Clandestinely Changed the Combination of the Company's Safe.

President Hamilton, Secretary Hollis and Treasurer Davies of the Benton Harbor electric railroad and transit company have spoken.

This morning their attorney, George W. Bridgman, filed their answer in the circuit court to the complaint made against them by Vice President Deam, on the ground of which Judge Coolidge issued an injunction restraining the officers from doing business for the company until the matter was heard in court.

Mr. Deam represented that the other officers of the company were trying to "skin" him and wreck the road, and he intimated that the others were rascals.

The answer makes things look different. Deam is accused of conspiracy to gain control of the company in order to sell it out and cheat and defraud Hamilton, Hollis and Davies.

Among other things Deam is charged with having never put a cent in the corporation; of untruthful statements and financial irresponsibility and also with having clandestinely entered the office of the company and changed the combination of the safe. That he refuses to open the safe or tell anyone the new combination.

The answer asks that the injunction of the court be set aside.

The answer begins with accusing Henry D. Deam, the vice president of the company, with unlawfully abstracting certain papers of the company from the safe; that Deam did, at the time of the organization of the present company, represent that a large amount of money had been expended on the survey and right of way of the proposed road but it was afterward discovered that only a small amount of money, if any, had actually been paid out. The complainants had accumulated a large amount of debts and liabilities for board, labor, livery hire, etc., which debts are yet unpaid and the present company is being constantly harassed and annoyed by the presentation of these unpaid claims.

The defendants further say that a small amount of clearing had been done on the land of one Berry, along the line of the then proposed road but since then the line has been changed and such work was of very little, if any value to the company and further to the best of their knowledge and belief the defendants declare that the labor bill for this work is still unpaid. It is true that a considerable amount of surveying had been done but it was found that the original survey was wholly unreliable and inadequate for the line and work contemplated by the new organization.

They charge that Henry D. Deam and his associates are wholly irresponsible; that during the summer and fall of 1896 he was compelled to borrow small amounts of money from his employees to pay his traveling and personal expenses while all the while he claimed to be backed by unlimited capital and that the said Deam had never been able to furnish any amount toward the construction of the proposed road; also that Andrew H. Deam and John S. Moats have always disclaimed having any money or property that they could invest in building the road; that the $500 necessary to procure the charter was furnished by the defendant, Davies.

The matter of the division of the stock of which Deam complains is fully explained in the answer and the stock was divided at a meeting of the board of directors and Deam himself voted in favor of the plan. The defendants, since the division, have kept their stock in the company's safe.

Since the beginning of the present suit they charge the said H. D. Deam with having clandestinely entered the office and changed the combination of the safe and that since he has refused to open or allow the safe to be opened and has kept the books and records of the company from the officers of the company. The defendants absolutely deny that 500 shares of the stock were ever given to Deam on account of services rendered before the organization of the company; they also deny that the undisputed indebtedness of the company is $25,000. The note given to Sydney J. Davies, which Deam claims was fraudulently issued, the defendants declare was given at the suggestion of Deam himself and that Deam himself signed the note.

The defendants deny that they have offered for sale any part of the stock allotted to them in the division of the 500 shares and they express the belief that the complainant Deam, has offered his stock for sale.

In regard to the contract for construction the answer says, "these defendants say that a certain conditional contract was made with parties giving their names as W. H. Foster and C. E. Hagerman. The said Foster and Hagerman have since failed to do any work on the road."

the filing of the bill and the procuring of the injunction in this cause is part of a conspiracy started by the said Henry D. Deam as early as last March (but which did not come to the knowledge of the defendants until very recently) to secure the management and control of said company, and to freeze out each of the defendants, Hamilton, Hollis and Davies and to cheat, wrong and defraud these defendants, Hamilton, Hollis and Davies.

The defendants declare that the complainants have never paid a cent into the corporation since its organization and have never paid a cent in money for the stock taken by them at the time of the organization; that the defendants and officers of the company have been prevented from procuring the money to pay the men who have labored on the road. The defendants deny that the complainants are entitled to the relief they ask of the court and ask that the injunction issued against the company be dissolved and that they be dismissed with their reasonable costs in cause which they say was most wrongfully started.

HIS FOOT IN IT.

C. J. Peck Must Answer in Court Tomorrow.

C. J. Brown who signed the name of C. J. Peck to a check last week in 16 hours will be an avenged man. Peck had Brown arrested on a mock warrant and Brown remembers the deal of a week ago as though it were today.

Last night Peck was preparing to go to Chicago. In his hurry he forgot to fasten a light on his wheel and without the sign of a lamp he rode down to the Graham & Morton dock and bought a ticket.

Chief Sterns and Officer O'Brien both saw him. As soon as Peck came back to his store the chief followed by Brown and Brown by O'Brien entered the furniture store and Peck slapped himself in glee as he remarked: "Oh, Brown, so they have you again, ha, ha."

The procession composed of Brown and the two officers did not notice Peck but with a grim tread marched to the rear of the store.

"Say, Charley," said the chief, "Can you see a lantern on this wheel?" Before Brown could answer Peck saw the point and with a start like a fire rocket he yelled: "Why, it's on me."

Mr. Peck was allowed to go to Chicago but a reception is being prepared to tender him on his return tomorrow morning.

BADLY BRUISED.

St. Joseph City Team Ran Away Today.

The St. Joseph city team was frightened by the street cars at noon today and ran away, throwing the driver, Fred Calender, from the wagon and seriously injuring him. No fractures were sustained, but the injuries will confine Mr. Calender to the house for some time.

The team was hitched to a wagon of sand and was moving over Winchester avenue when an electric car bowled up and the driver was unable to control them. They were not injured in the runaway.

HARD DAYS WORK.

Done by the Labor Commissioners at the Smoky City.

DE ARMITT'S UNIFORMITY PLAN

To Be Put Into Operation If It Is Possible
—Miners Say of the Big Operator's Moves—A Question of Per Cent.—West Virginia Miners Get Strike-Struck—Opposition Move of Operators—Bathford Publishes a Strike Bulletin.

Pittsburg, July 16.—Yesterday was a day devoted to hard work on the part of the joint arbitration commission in its effort to secure true uniformity in this district, as suggested by W. P. De Armit, and the members express themselves as well satisfied with the progress made. Two of the largest operators in the district—W. P. De Armit and Francis L. Robinson—have consented to head the list, and the commissioners feel satisfied that the other operators will soon fall in line. It is claimed by the miners' officials, however, that the understanding was that the agreement meant 95 per cent. of the output of the district, whereas it is now said to mean 98 per cent. of the operators. They say it will be absolutely impossible to get 95 per cent. of the operators, as there are a great many operators mining on a small scale. President Dolan said that while he would do all in his power to assist the commissioners to secure the signatures of the operators to the agreement, he thought the proposition was a scheme of President De Armit to keep his men at work and prolong the strike.

At Work on Prominent Men.
General Little, of the Ohio arbitration board, said that every obstacle had been removed in the way of a settlement along the lines proposed, and that he had not heard of any operators who would not sign. Commissioner Edward Rigley and Horace Caley, of Illinois, left for Chicago last evening to see Col. W. P. Rend and J. W. Ellsworth, and if possible induce Colonel Rend to return to Pittsburg and use his influence among the operators to have the agreement signed. L. P. McCormack, of Indiana, another of the commissioners, left for Terre Haute this morning to see J. Smith Talley, to secure his cooperation. Talley is a heavy purchaser of Pittsburg coal. Last evening the commission sent a telegram to Senator Mark Hanna, asking him to lend his assistance in having the agreement adopted. The situation in the district among the miners remains unchanged.

West Virginia Men Going Out.
Meantime the West Virginia situation is changing for the benefit of the strikers. A Huntington, W. Va., dispatch says: There is a decided change in the coal fields of southern West Virginia, and it is now stated for an absolute certainty that inside of forty-eight hours a majority of all the miners on the N. and W. and Chesapeake and Ohio railway will join the strikers. The organizers are now in both fields, and in the latter the Chesapeake, Belmont and Black Cat mines are idle, the miners, 400 in number, going out at noon yesterday. The N. and W. miners are still at work, but the strike representatives are confident that matters will come their way in a short time. On the Kanawha yesterday all the operators raised the price of mining one-fourth of a cent a bushel on soft, and one-half a cent on hard coal, but it is believed this will not hold the men in line.

Making a Counter Movement.
A dispatch from Cincinnati says: An important counter movement against the organizers of the United Mine Workers now in West Virginia, was begun here yesterday by a conference of five operators in that state. They determined to give their miners an advance of 14 cents a ton above the present rates, and to make a corresponding increase in the price of coal at the mines. They have returned to ask all other operators in the state to do the same. It is the opinion of coal men here that their action will be approved and followed by the other operators in the state. The price of coal at the mines is raised to $1.25 per ton.

STATEMENT OF THE SITUATION.

Bathford Gives the Status of the Strike in Different States.

Columbus, O., July 16.—President Rathford and Secretary Pearce have issued an official bulletin, No. 1, to the miners, it being a review of the situation. The bulletin says: "Our fight for living wages now covers in whole or in part eight states of the Union. It is a general suspension and no local settlements will be authorized or recognized. The second week and the eighth day of our suspension brings with it greater assurance of ultimate victory than any previous day. Our forces are increasing every hour, our determination is unflinching, and our actions are law-abiding in every particular. The state and number of miners involved are as follows: Western Pennsylvania—Fully 20,000 miners have joined us for living wages, which makes suspension almost unanimous in every mine in the district. Work still continues in the central field, but steps will be taken in a few days looking to a suspension which it is believed will be successful.

"Ohio—Twenty-eight thousand miners have laid down their tools in their demand for living wages, making the suspension general excepting a few local mines. Indiana—Advises received yesterday report every mine and every miner in this state suspended. Eight thousand have joined the march for living wages. Illinois—Reports from this state are to the effect that suspension is practically general, and that miners are determined to continue the march until living wages are secured. West Virginia—About 3,000 miners have joined the movement. Reports from various sections of the state confirm the belief that miners will suspend. Eight organizers have left this city today for West Virginia. Supply of coal from that field will be cut off in a very few days.

REFUSED WORK WERE DESTROYED.

Miners of the Pana, Ill., District—Oakes Prairie State News.

Springfield, Ill., July 16.—The miners in the Pana district have been offered increased wages by the operators, but have declined and will not return to work. The families of many of the miners are destitute, and the strikers have organized a commissary and are soliciting provisions of business men and farmers. Over 100 families are being given rations daily. There are 2,800 miners in the Pana district. In Macoupin county, at Nilwood, the men accepted on Monday an advance of 10 per cent. per ton and went to work on the condition that they should strike when the men at Green Ridge struck. Three hundred miners assembled at Green Ridge Wednesday and induced the miners there to go out, and those at Nilwood followed. The Girard mine was the only one in operation yesterday in Macoupin county. The miners at the two mines at Taylorville, 150 in number, struck yesterday. At Decatur 250 miners are still at work and will probably continue so.

ORDER IS RAISING A ROW.

New Women of Kansas City, Kan., Do Not Favor Full Equal Rights.

Kansas City, July 16.—The order of the police commissioners of Kansas City, Kan., that women prisoners must work on the stone pile along with the men has caused a great commotion, and has not yet been put into effect. Perhaps it never may be. The reason it was not put into effect was that not a woman remained in jail to be sent to the rock pile. When it became certain that they would be compelled to don overalls and crack rock their male relatives appeared and paid their fines.

The Current Event club, an organization of women who discuss politics before each election, has expressed itself as immeasurably shocked at the proposition to make women break rock, and has called an indignation meeting to protest against the "threatened disgrace and degradation of womanhood." The members threaten that enforcement of the order means the retirement of the police commissioners from office at the first opportunity, and as women vote in Kansas municipal elections the threat is not regarded as altogether an idle one, and may have its desired effect.

Later.—Women are not to be put to work on the rock piles with men in Kansas City, Kan. The board of police commissioners has rescinded its order in deference to popular opinion. The agitation here has developed the fact that the same rule is enforced by the police of Leavenworth, Kan.

CONFERENCE ON THE TARIFF.

Member of the Committee Talks of an Agreement Some Time Today.

Washington, July 16.—The tariff conference were in a more hopeful mood yesterday than Wednesday and one of the leading representatives of the senate expressed the opinion that the Republicans would be able to conclude their labors today and to summon the Democratic members by Saturday. This view he said was justified by the present appearance of things, but he added that there were still more contingencies that might arise to prevent so early an agreement and that it was impossible to say precisely when the end would be reached.

On the house side, on the other hand, among those in close touch with the conferees, it is asserted with the most positiveness that the house conferees have no intention of yielding anything to the senate on the house schedule and opinion is freely expressed that the deadlock will continue indefinitely until the senate yields.

The Democrats of the senate are concerned over the matter of a successor for Harris of Tennessee, who died last week. One vote is a big thing in the senate just now.

His Youth Saved His Neck.

Marion, Ill., July 16.—Steve Gill, 18 years old, has been found guilty of murder in the first degree and sentenced to life imprisonment. His age is all that saved his neck. Last February Gill visited Andrew Rader, a neighbor. They had always been on friendly terms, but while Rader was feeding his stock Gill killed and then robbed him. No defense was offered at the trial except a plea for mercy.

BIG RAILROAD BRIDGE.

375 Tons of Steel Used in the Construction of the St. Joseph Valley Bridge.

NOW READY FOR TRAFFIC.

All the Bridges Between Benton Harbor and Buchanan are Now Ready for Business.

All the bridges on the Milwaukee, Benton Harbor & Columbus railway between Benton Harbor and Buchanan are completed.

Few people understand the difficulties to overcome in the construction of our large river bridges and less understand the cost and mode of procedure. In the first place, the right of crossing has to be obtained and if over navigable water, you are sure to meet with every and all kinds of objections. Some want one thing, others want everything and then are not quite satisfied, especially those who do business on their raging waters.

The bridge for the M. B. & C. railway over the St. Joseph river is not an exception to the troubles mentioned above, having experienced its delay in its right of crossing. However by patient perseverance this bridge unique in construction and very substantial has been completed.

The substructure consists of steel cylinders made in sections of six feet in length, those under the ends north and south are five feet interior diameter and those in midriver carrying the end of the two spans are seven feet in diameter. These cylinders are put together by plates of steel around each joint, all of which is very strongly riveted together by three-fourth inch steel rivets. The section thus made is then placed in its exact location in the river every care being taken to keep them so until the final resting place is reached. As soon as cylinder is located it is heavily loaded with railroad or other iron, when two or more pumps are used to agitate and remove the soft material and sand or any other foreign matter not suitable for bearing purposes. When this has been thoroughly done piles were driven on the inside of cylinder. Those were of white oak thirty-five feet long, the points being nine inches or over and the butts sixteen inches or over, and they were driven to low water level and then secured to each other by steel rods and stays. The space between each pile and between pile and cylinder was very carefully filled with Portland cement concrete well packed and pounded in. This concrete was carried up to the top of cylinder on the top of which was placed large stones weighing nearly four ton each and on those stone an iron plate or shoe on which rests the steel bridge. As it may seem to the uninitiated the end of every iron or steel bridge rests on a set of rollers. This is absolutely necessary to allow for expansion and contraction of the metal entering into its construction.

The railway side of the bridge is five feet in the clear and that for the cars etc. is 18 feet. Thus the span very wide and consequently heavy and costly. Every part is perfect in design and workmanship. The distance from lower side of floor beam to water is about 35 feet and from top of chord to water about 70 feet. In the construction of the bridge proper care is used about 300 tons of steel, and in bridge and cylinders about 375 tons of steel. In filling the cylinders, which are from top to bottom about 54 feet deep, there is used 500 barrels of cement, 300 yards of crushed stone and 75 yards of sand, 60 white oak piles from 35 to 40 feet long. Those piles were driven with a steam pile driving machine, the average number of blows struck each pile being 200 with hammer weighing 2,800 pounds.

The steel structure was built by the American bridge company, of Chicago, the locating and sinking of cylinders and other substructural work, also the erecting of other structures was done by George E. Thomas, Chicago. The long trestle leading up to the bridge, also that over Yellow Creek and Cemetery Ravine, was built by the Crouch construction company, under the supervision of Mr. Thomas.

From the new bridge a fine view of the St. Joseph river can be had.

AUGUST 1.

On That Date Trains Will be Put on the St. Joseph Valley.

The track of the St. Joseph Valley railroad will be completed from Buchanan to Berrien Springs tomorrow night and the first train will be run over the new track Monday.

Mr. Patterson told THE EVENING NEWS yesterday that train service between this city and Buchanan would begin August 1.

Lecture at the Christian Church. For the benefit of the ladies aid society of the Christian church and for the missionary work, Mrs. D. J. (Rose Standish), a returned missionary and a lady well known throughout this city, will give a lecture at the Christian church, Friday evening, August 1, at 8 o'clock.

THE FIRST PEACHES.

They Were Shipped Out of St. Joseph Last Night.

Thomas Archer, of St. Joseph, shipped four baskets of peaches of the Smeed variety to Chicago last night.

This is the first shipment of Michigan peaches this year.

POOR NILES.

Even Barnum Will Hurry Through the Place.

Niles Sun: Barnum's circus will be in Niles. This great and gigantic circus will pass through Niles on the morning of August 7, en route from South Bend to Benton Harbor, and it will only be here a few minutes. Reserved seats are now on sale.

AT BERRIEN SPRINGS.

Amateur Actors Will Present An Excellent Play.

"Tony, the Convict," a five act drama, will be played by Berrien Springs talent for the benefit of the band, Saturday, July 17. This play is said to be the finest ever produced by amateurs. The plot is so strong that it plays itself. The management have spared no little pains in selecting the characters, and it is hoped that they may be rewarded for their exertions.

LIKE COL. BEAN'S CASE.

Supreme Court Sits on Saginaw Street Railway.

The Union Street Railway company of Saginaw was denied a writ of mandamus by the supreme court to compel Judge Snow of Saginaw to issue an injunction restraining the city authorities from removing its tracks from the streets of the city on account of its failure to pay its paving taxes and to perform certain other duties imposed by its franchise. The city claimed the right to forfeit the franchise and to remove the company's tracks. The company owes the city over seven thousand dollars for paving. Its defense was that

Cream of tartar comes from grapes. It is clean and wholesome.

It is the best ingredient known for baking powders.

It makes light biscuit, white and without a bitter taste.

"Cleveland's" is a pure cream of tartar powder.

Guarantee.

Grocers are authorized to give back your money if you do not find Cleveland's the best baking powder you have ever used.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., N.Y.

It was unable to pay and the insolvent condition of the company was urged as an excuse for its non-compliance with the ordinance. The supreme court says, however, that the contract gives the city the right to take action which it threatens and that the rule is that he who fails to perform, from whatever cause, must suffer the consequences he has agreed to suffer. Corporations form no exceptions to the rule. When a party confesses that he cannot perform his contract, equity will not interfere to prevent the other party from enforcing his legal rights.

STILL PROGRESSING.

The Wonderful Record of the Twin City Telephone Exchange.

The progress in the business of the Twin City Telephone exchange continues without abatement. The company have already this week secured 15 new subscribers which makes a list of upwards of 350, one of the most remarkable showings ever made in a like enterprise.

This advancement is largely due to the business capacity of the men who have had control of the enterprise, but the excellent service of the new exchange also must come in for consideration in determining the causes for the remarkable success of the undertaking. The new company is issuing a revised directory with which it will provide the subscribers at once. The continual increase of subscribers necessitates a new and larger directory, and within a month at the rate the subscribers are increasing it is possible that a second revision will be necessary.

The Twin City telephone exchange has made the most phenomenal record in the history of the telephone exchanges. There was never before a case where the Bell company suffered such a complete business success.

ATTORNEY DELONG'S SIDE.

Explains the Claim of Mrs. Kitron Against the City.

In regard to the claim of Mrs. Lydia Kitron against the city for injury from what she claims was a defective sidewalk, her attorney, Nelson DeLong says our head lines in our issue of the 13 does Mrs. Kitron injustice. For he says, "when she filed her claim last winter for $150 she had not consulted any lawyer and did not know what her rights were; nor was she certain (as she is now) that she would be permanently disabled."

"She did not even know that the city charter required her claim to be verified by her oath; and her physician, Dr. Bell, who was then as now mayor of the city, did not inform her what her rights were. Your article also says, 'She asked the city for $150 but her claim was rejected.'

"The records of the common council show that her claim was referred to some one to look after, but the common council so far as its record goes did not 'reject' the claim, they only neglected to take final action. I think if the council had settled with Mrs. Kitron for $150 which she claimed for her physicians and nurse's bills, Benton Harbor might have saved some thousands of dollars. If Mrs. Kitron's claim is a legal one, she is as much entitled to recover for it as she would be if she had loaned the city so much of her money."

DR. CRANE IS DEAD.

One of the Saddest Deaths in Local History.

Dr. Harrie M. Crane died at the home of his brother in the eastern part of the state yesterday. His wife at the time was helpless in bed, suffering from spinal trouble.

Dr. Crane came here from Adrian about six months ago and opened offices in the Jones & Sonner block. He did a flourishing practice and was a successful and skillful physician. His health began to fail and after practicing for three months he was compelled to stop work. He was afflicted with a complication of heart and lung trouble.

When Dr. Crane died yesterday the news was broken to the wife, who is at their home on Pipestone street, by a series of telegrams. First the wires told he was very low, then that he could not live, that he was worse and when Mrs. Crane asked by telegraph for the whole truth it was told that her husband was dead. He was at rest when the first of the dispatches was sent out.

Mrs. Crane was injured by a fall a few years ago and has been an invalid ever since. She cannot walk, but if her family physician comes for her she will go to the funeral of her husband which will be held at Adrian. Neighbors are trying to console the grief and disease stricken woman.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—Miss Eugenie Webster of Berrien Springs is visiting friends in the city.
—Misses Jessie and Maggie McCrimmon of South Haven are visiting Mrs.
J. J. Miller.
—George E. Thomas, the engineer who built the big bridge across the St.
Joseph river, will leave for his home in Chicago this evening. Mr. Thomas has made many friends here and the people see him go with many regrets.
Declined the invitation.
A well known professor is noted for his absentmindedness. He and a friend, another old professor, used to take a daily walk together and discuss matters quite beyond the comprehension of ordinary mortals.
One day when the walking was very bad professor No. 1 was on his way to the corner at which he and his friend always met when he encountered a young student whose face he recognised dimly, having seen it every day for some weeks in his morning class. He accordingly hailed his pupil, who was wading through the mud to get across the street.
"Have you seen my friend?" he asked.
"Yes, sir," replied the student, pausing respectfully in the midst of a mud puddle to remove his cap. "He is at the corner waiting for you."
"Good," replied the professor, looking over his spectacles. "I thank you. You may be seated."—Strand Magazine.

An Analyst.

"What did that young man call this poem?" asked the editor.
"A satire."
"And that implies that he is showing the uselessness and absurdity of something."
"I believe so."
"Well, there's only one guess that I can make concerning this, and that is that it is a satire on poetry."—Washington Star.

A Delicate Compliment.

No more elegant compliment was ever paid to a preacher than that of King Louis XIV of France to Jean Batiste Massillon, bishop of Clermont.
Said he: "I have heard many great preachers, and the effect they produced on me was that I felt thoroughly satisfied with them. Every time I heard you I was dissatisfied with myself."

ANOTHER MISTAKE.

Made By Congressman Hamilton
at Sawyer.

Republicans who have their ears to the ground have been warned that Congressman E. L. Hamilton made a grave error when he laid the Sawyer postoffice in the lap of Louis N.
Tatro.

The man whom Mr. Hamilton's friends expected he would appoint was David Knight, who conducts a small mercantile business in that village.
The appointment of Mr. Tatro, therefore, came like an electric shock and set a hundred tongues a wagging against the congressman.

Mr. Knight claims that he had been promised the office as fairly as any promise can be made. He relied upon the promise and made no effort to get any indorsements or indicate to Mr.
Hamilton in any way that he was the choice of the patrons of the office. Mr.
Knight supposed that the congressman comprehended the situation there and when the time arrived would direct the lightning's stroke to the proper object.

The surprise the appointment of Mr. Tatro brought to republican leaders was occasioned by the fact that while Mr. Knight has always been a faithful worker for republican victory Mr. Tatro has practically been unheard of in a political way. He is not regarded as having always exerted himself to aid in the political success of his party, and therefore was not considered entitled to any of the spoils.

It is impossible for Mr. Hamilton's friends to understand what impulse ruled him in his selection of Mr. Tatro and they predict that the turning down of Mr. Knight will augment the ominous number who are arraying themselves in opposition to Mr. Hamilton.

A BIT OF JEALOUSY.

Near the Parc Monceau is a pretty little house that seems to hide in a bush of delicate the home of a young and charming widow of 33. The sacrament of baptism gave her the name of Louise, and the sacrament of marriage made her the Countess of Viry. She had as a pet and constant companion a delicate little Mexican poodle, all white and woolly, to which was given as its sole ornament a lump of sugar in the morning and a sweet biscuit in the evening. His name was Nito.

It was 4 o'clock. Louise was running along the pebbly paths of her garden, sitting among the rosebushes like a butterfly.

White playfully pursued his mistress with hanks of delight, at times seizing with his teeth the ruffle of her blue evening dress, and, propping himself upon his paws, pulled at it with all his strength.

In the midst of their play M. Jacques de Beauchamp entered the garden. The little widow, perceiving him, hid herself behind an orange tree. But Jacques came to her, and, surprising her, kissed her on the forehead.

"Ah, M. de Beauchamp," she cried, "that is not nice of you."

Louise was of medium height. She had very small hands and feet, white shoulders and thick black hair. Her teeth were so white that when she laughed they glistened like pearls. How well she carried her widowhood and in a way to honor herself! The young maid was generally too timid and bashful. She blushed and cast down her eyes at the least word of compliment. The widow, on the other hand, has the right to hear everything, and when one speaks to her of love she knows readily what that means.

Louise leaned upon the arm of M. de Beauchamp, and they went into the park, followed by Nito, who threw some jealous glances at him who was to be the future husband of his mistress. Of course the poor little animal could not have known that. It must have been a jealous instinct.

Louise and Jacques agreed so well that they had planned to be married. Nevertheless each of them had a defect. M. de Beauchamp was jealous and Mme. de Viry was coquettish.

"Louise," he said to her, "you will never me to despair. You say that you love me, but how can I believe it when I see you smiling at every admirer and giving to every comer so sweet a reception? When I see you in society so full of life and gaiety and hear your ringing laughter from the midst of a circle of ardent admirers, it is impossible for me to tell you the tortures and anguish I endure."

"And what can I do, dear?" replied Louise. "I am gay, it is true, but is that a crime? And why should I be cold to those who approach me only to say pleasant and agreeable things?"

You are a coquette, and your laugh makes me despair, because if you laugh against my wish it must be only to show your teeth. You know very well how adorable you are when in company with a fixed purpose you throw back your head and show your pretty white neck."

But what must I do to prove my love for you? It is becoming desperate. Tell me what you please, but do not ask me not to laugh any more. I am only happy when I am glad and free to be light hearted."

M. de Beauchamp assumed a solemn air.

You said to me one evening that you would make for me the sacrifice of your life. I do not ask so much as that. Listen. Do you wish to make me the happiest man on earth?"

You have but to speak."

"Even at the price of suffering?"

"Yes, at any price."

Well, then, make me the sacrifice of your tooth."

"What are you demanding of me? It is barbarous."

"Only a tooth. The smallest one in the front. And afterward you may laugh as much as you please."

But you will think I am ugly and will not love me any more."

Never to you there is no other way to secure my happiness."

The countess rang the bell. John, her butler, took her orders and came back a few minutes later with a gentle smile, holding in his hand a leather case which he held up to her.

"What is that?" asked M. de

A FIEND, OUR BLUFF STYLE.

Dead in the Hands of a Southern Mob.

DEATH IN DOUBT.

He Was First Stamped
and Then Shot with Bullets, Then
He Was Tied to a Tree and Left to Death by Beasts of the South. Crime He Committed Was Murder of a Woman.

July 16.—The negro,
William Williams, who outraged and murdered the Williams, an 18-year-old girl, at West Point, Mississippi, has been captured near Pruittville, Ark. A mob has started to West Point with the negro and others to the stake on the bank of the Mississippi.
Cincinnati, July 16.—The Commercial-Tribune, from Florence, Ala., says: "At West Point, Tenn., Tuesday afternoon, a negro named Williams was captured in the woods near the town. Yesterday afternoon Anthony Williams, her murderer and victim, was captured near Pruittville and last night he was hanged in the streets of West Point in the presence of a mob. Williams was riddled with bullets and burned to ashes. Before a mob was fired he was knocked down and stamped to death. Then the crowd piled back and those who had pistols fired volley after volley at him.

How the Mob Proceeded.

The crowd then gathered wood and building a fire over him watched the ghastly scene until the murderer was dead. For two days and nights the men burned and determined have burned the body for miles. Several times the mob was within shooting distance of the city but he escaped. He was captured within sixteen miles of the city of West Point. A man named Clark who had been captured for tobacco held him
the negro Williams was first traced from Clark, where he traded the young woman to a negro woman for a horse. He was later seen at Pruittville and several shots were fired.
The body of the victim was found.
A trace of him was lost until Wednesday afternoon, when searchers came up him three miles south of Pruittville.
had been in the woods without food for two days and running most of the time. He was exhausted. The mob quickly took him back to the site of his crime, tied him to the tree that he had tied his victim where he outraged her, and there he was tortured to death. The mob composed of most substantial men, who was shortly to have been released, a young man in Nashville.
His husband came down from Nashville yesterday and was at West Point with the crowd of avengers and at the scene of the crime.

How the Victim Was Found.

The lady left her home early today, going to pick berries. When she did not return for dinner her friends went in search of her. She was found and carried to a spring with a leather strap and her neck. One of her hands was gouged out and in her right hand were leaves and grass. The ground showed at a time a struggle had taken place.
Then the negro was captured his face and arms were terribly scratched and burned.

REPUBLICAN LEAGUE ADJOURNS.

After a Session Over Next Place of Meeting, Omaha Finally Winning.

St. Louis, July 16.—The feature of the meeting of the Republican League convention was a struggle over next place of meeting. Omaha, which had in record voted nearly unanimously the committee having the matter in charge, had to pull all along, but Bal-more made an extremely hard fight
the day and the disappointed cryland were not disposed to up their efforts even after the convention had awarded itself for Omaha.
Chicago, St. Paul, and Los Angeles, were opponents which could be chronicled
as "also rans."

Secretary J. J. Dowling, who had a distinguished duty for two years, was very fully re-elected, according to the programme of the principal to, and the Illinois and Michigan delegates were unable to make any at showing for Chapin and Blakeley, in respect to candidates. There was semblance of a contest over the final position of treasurer. The discussion of the convention throughout was most remarkable feature, and the finger and tongue of inexperienced elements were made by any means wholly responsible for it.

The interjections of speakers who regularly secured the floor and because their remarks were so common as to be an almost constant occurrence, and the tact and energy of the presidents were taxed to preserve anything like order and keep clear of parliamentary entanglements. While the enthusiasm of the league men was the use of force or less of the chaotic quality in a parliamentary sense, it evidently demonstrated their earnest interest in the affairs of the league and the fact that interest was evident in the proceedings of the convention.

Sherman on the Railway Ownership.

Washington, July 16.—While the house debates on the settlement of the Pacific railway deal was under consideration in the senate yesterday Allen Sherman, on the ownership and operation of the Union Pacific road, declaring that the government should own the road and reduce passenger and freight rates from 25 to 50 per cent. General Sherman said that government ownership would reduce passenger and freight rates 25 to 50 per cent.

Sherman Must Face a Trial.

Chicago, July 16.—To clear himself of charges of bribery brought against him by the Clark Henry Brandenburg case, the gentleman of the grand jury, Mr. Woodward declined to prosecute. He bound the electric company to pay over to the city of Chicago the sum of $1,000. The prosecution was dismissed immediately.

plomacy, Not Relished

London Editors Say Such Things Will Happen Once Too Often for John Bull's Patience and Then, the Deluge of War—
Serious View Taken of Being Called a Liar and a Horse-thief by Our Secretary of State—Newspaper Comment.

London, July 16.—The evening newspapers are in a rage over the reply of Secretary Sherman to Lord Salisbury in the seal controversy in which Sherman makes frequent and distinct imputations of bad faith against England.
The half-penny journals issue sensational pamphlets bearing such lines as "Twisting
the Lion's Tail Again" and "America Shrieks at England." The more serious papers deal with the situation editorially. The Globe in an article headed "Yankee Insolence" says: "The memories of Cleveland's impertinent message are all revived by the extraordinary and insulting dispatch which Mr. Sherman has permitted to find its way into the papers. Waiving the merits of the question, which fortunately is one for the naturalists, the astonishing tone of Mr. Sherman is in defiance not only of the usages of diplomacy but of the maxims of ordinary civility.

Would Give Him His Passports.

"Englishmen will be glad to see that Lord Salisbury has, so far as patrol of the sea fisheries is concerned, treated the message as though it had never been sent. If he were to go a step farther and to direct Sir Julian Pauncefote to intimate to Mr. McKinley that her majesty's government declines to receive dispatches couched in such language and could only reply to the next by handing Colonel Hay his passports the action would be endorsed by the complete approval of the nation."

Declares War Inevitable.

The Post takes a very serious view of the matter. It says: "Every indication points to the certainty that Great Britain will be compelled to fight for her existence against the United States as soon as an American government believes that war can be safely begun."
Our statesmen must search their consciences and make sure that in any controversy that may be raised their attitude is just and fair. They should concede so long as there is any reasonable doubt concerning the justice of their position, but they must be prepared for an appeal to force.

Our duty is to make sure that it comes by no fault of ours, and that it shall find us united that prepared. The respite will in all probability be the time needed for the creation of a more powerful American fleet —say three or four years—or for the creation of a political combination with some naval power—say in as many months. The organization to sustain such a contest may be short. The time to face the situation is not in three years or three months, but now."

Chronicle Censures Our Methods.

The Daily Chronicle thinks Lord Salisbury would be justified in returning Secretary Sherman's dispatch on the ground that the British government does not receive communications couched in such terms. If he does not,
it is because American diplomatists assume a certain liberty of language not used by other countries. The Chronicle proceeds to severely censure the methods of American diplomacy and says: "The fact that some nations, like ours, are fortunate in being favored with the presence of a diplomatist who is no less a gentleman in public than in private life is not sufficient to remove this slur and danger."

VIEW OF THE "THUNDERER."

Suggests That Recent Misgivings About Sherman Were Correct.

The Times, seemingly not knowing the fact that probably President McKinley saw the dispatch before it was sent, remarks in an editorial: "It is impossible to doubt the authenticity of the document. It is a manifest attempt, in offensive language, to fasten upon England a charge of bad faith. If this was not Secretary Sherman's intention he has shown himself singularly unfitted for the delicate and responsible duties of his office. If it was, then the statement he recently made repudiating the charge of bad faith was deliberately misleading. When he was first appointed to his present office doubts were expressed as to the wisdom of the choice. If he really sent this dispatch they will be fully confirmed." The writer then suggests that the dispatch was published with the connivance, if not the active aid, of the Jingo senators, who were under a solemn obligation to treat it as confidential.

The Times in its financial article, referring to Sherman's communication, says: "Mr. Sherman's dispatch is not regarded seriously, but the fact that American statesman—or rather politicians—think it useful from time to time to indulge in language of scarcely veiled hostility will not pass unnoticed, and will add to the prevailing indisposition of prudent investors to buy American securities."

The St. James Gazette says: "The publication is a further demonstration of certain trans-Atlantic methods of diplomacy which may one day involve consequence much more serious. A dispatch couched in terms of studied discourtesy and menace towards this country is a small matter. We are used to that the real gist of the situation is the fact that the United States considers that kind of language safe. But it is not safe, and after some affront, more or less flagrant, we may some day find that we cannot yield to them; and then might arise a situation of the gravest peril."

Sea Conference To Be Held.

London, July 16.—While among the general public here the tone of Secretary Sherman's letter to Ambassador Hay regarding the Behring sea seal regulations is greatly resented, the correspondent of the Associated Press
in a London article says the substance of the letter is as follows:

CHICAGO'S WAIFS.

They Will be Given an Outing in Benton Harbor.

Dr. Henshaw, pastor of the Galilee Baptist church, of Chicago, has leased the dwelling at 272 Payone street, this city, and will use it to shelter the hundreds of orphan, homeless and unfortunate children whom he has taken upon himself to comfort and whom he will give an outing of a week among the shades of St. Joseph river and on the beach of Lake Michigan.

Mr. Henshaw has leased the above premises for the summer and it will be occupied the season through by "fresh air" children from the metropolis across the lake. All that the dwelling will accommodate will be entertained and at the beginning of each week a new aggregation of the little folks will be received and those who have enjoyed a week in the fields, the orchards and the woods will return home. Mrs. Peiper, the matron of the home here, will arrive from Chicago tomorrow and get everything in condition for the reception of the children.

The various churches in the city are asked to contribute cots to sleep upon, bed clothing, dishes and provisions, if they choose, toward maintaining the home here. It is also asked that families, who desire to turn a ray of sunshine upon the lives of the pale-faced, forlorn-looking children by entertaining them in their own families for a week, shall send their names to Rev. George B. Simons or Dr. Henshaw.

The annual outing of Dr. Henshaw's proteges is a great event. It has a wonderfully wholesome effect upon the children, and is regarded by them as the dearest experiences of their unhappy lives. In other cities where the outings have been previously held the citizens gave the children rides in their private carriages, and many took one or more into their own homes and made them happy for a week.

THEY ANSWER BACK.

Defendants Get After Vice President Deam of the Benton Harbor Electric Railway

ACCUSE HIM OF MANY THINGS.

Charged That He Clandestinely Changed the Combination of the Company's Safe.

President Hamilton, Secretary Hollis and Treasurer Davies of the Benton Harbor electric railroad and transit company have spoken.

This morning their attorney, George W. Bridgeman, filed their answer in the circuit court to the complaint made against them by Vice President Deam, on the ground of which Judge Coolidge issued an injunction restraining the officers from doing business for the company until the matter was heard in court.

Mr. Deam represented that the other officers of the company were trying to "skin" him and wreck the road, and he intimated that the others were rascals.

The answer makes things look different. Deam is accused of conspiracy to gain control of the company in order to sell it out and cheat and defraud Hamilton, Hollis and Davies.

Among other things Deam is charged with having never put a cent in the corporation; of untruthful statements and financial irresponsibility and also with having clandestinely entered the office of the company and changed the combination of the safe. That he refuses to open the safe or tell anyone the new combination.

The answer asks that the injunction of the court be set aside.

The answer begins with accusing Henry D. Deam, the vice president of the company, with unlawfully abstracting certain papers of the company from the safe; that Deam did, at the time of the organization of the present company, represent that a large amount of money had been expended on the survey and right of way of the proposed road but it was afterward discovered that only a small amount of money, if any, had actually been paid out. The complainants had accumulated a large amount of debts and liabilities for board, labor, livery hire, etc., which debts are yet unpaid and the present company is being constantly harassed and annoyed by the presentation of these unpaid claims.

The defendants further say that a small amount of clearing had been done on the land of one Berry, along the line of the then proposed road but since then the line has been changed and such work was of very little, if any value to the company and further to the best of their knowledge and belief the defendants declare that the labor bill for this work is still unpaid. It is true that a considerable amount of surveying had been done but it was found that the original survey was wholly unreliable and inadequate for the line and work contemplated by the new organization.

They charge that Henry D. Deam and his associates are wholly irresponsible; that during the summer and fall of 1896 he was compelled to borrow small amounts of money from his employees to pay his traveling and personal expenses while all the while he claimed to be backed by unlimited capital and that the said Deam had never been able to furnish any amounts toward the construction of the proposed road; also that Andrew H. Deam and John S. Moats have always disclaimed having any money or property that they could invest in building the road; that the $500 necessary to procure the charter was furnished by the defendant, Davies.

The matter of the division of the stock of which Deam complains is fully explained in the answer and the stock was divided at a meeting of the board of directors and Deam himself voted in favor of the plan. The defendants, since the division, have kept their stock in the company's safe.

Since the beginning of the present suit they charge the said H. D. Deam with having clandestinely entered the office and changed the combination of the safe and that since he has refused to open or allow the safe to be opened and has kept the books and records of the company from the officers of the company. The defendants absolutely deny that 500 shares of the stock were ever given to Deam on account of services rendered before the organization of the company; they also deny that the undisputed indebtedness of the company is $25,000. The note given to Sydney J. Davies, which Deam claims was fraudulently issued, the defendants declare was given at the suggestion of Deam himself and that Deam himself signed the note.

The defendants deny that they have offered for sale any part of the stock allotted to them in the division of the 500 shares and they express the belief that the complainant Deam, has offered his stock for sale.

In regard to the contract for construction the answer says, "these defendants say that a certain conditional contract was made with parties giving their names as W. H. Fetter and C. E. Hagerman. The said Fetter and Hagerman have never fulfilled, in any respect any of the conditions of their contract and these defendants deny that said Fetter and Hagerman have ever done any work under said contract."

the filing of the bill and the procuring of the injunction in this cause is part of a conspiracy started by the said Henry D. Deam as early as last March (but which did not come to the knowledge of the defendants until very recently) to secure the management and control of said company, and to freeze out each of the defendants, Hamilton, Hollis and Davies and to cheat, wrong and defraud these defendants, Hamilton, Hollis and Davies.

The defendants declare that the complainants have never paid a cent into the corporation since its organization and have never paid a cent in money for the stock taken by them at the time of the organization; that the defendants and officers of the company have been prevented from procuring the money to pay the men who have labored on the road. The defendants deny that the complainants are entitled to the relief they ask of the court and ask that the injunction issued against the company be dissolved and that they be dismissed with their reasonable costs in cause which they say was most wrongfully started.

HIS FOOT IN IT.

C. J. Peck Must Answer in Court Tomorrow.

C. J. Brown who signed the name of C. J. Peck to a check last week in 16 hours will be an avenged man. Peck had Brown arrested on a mock warrant and Brown remembers the deal of a week ago as though it were today.

Last night Peck was preparing to go to Chicago. In his hurry he forgot to fasten a light on his wheel and without the sign of a lamp he rode down to the Graham & Morton dock and bought a ticket.

Chief Sterns and Officer O'Brien both saw him. As soon as Peck came back to his store the chief followed by Brown and Brown by O'Brien entered the furniture store and Peck slapped himself in glee as he remarked: "Oh, Brown, so they have you again, ha, ha."

The procession composed of Brown and the two officers did not notice Peck but with a grim tread marched to the rear of the store.

"Say, Charley," said the chief, "Can you see a lantern on this wheel?" Before Brown could answer Peck saw the point and with a start like a fire rocket he yelled:

"Why, it's on me." Mr. Peck was allowed to go to Chicago but a reception is being prepared to tender him on his return tomorrow morning.

BADLY BRUISED.

St. Joseph City Team Ran Away Today.

The St. Joseph city team was frightened by the street cars at noon today and ran away, throwing the driver, Fred Calender, from the wagon and seriously injuring him. No fractures were sustained, but the injuries will confine Mr. Calender to the house for some time.

The team was hitched to a wagon of sand and was moving over Winchester avenue when an electric car bowled up and the driver was unable to control them. They were not injured in the runaway.

DE ARMITT'S UNIFORMITY PLAN

To Be Put Into Operation If It Is Feasible—Miners Say of the Big Operator's Moves—A Question of Forfeit—West Virginia Miners Get Strike-Struck—Opposition Move of Operators—Bathford Publishes a Strike Bulletin.

Pittsburg, July 16.—Yesterday was a day devoted to hard work on the part of the joint arbitration commission in its effort to secure true uniformity in this district, as suggested by W. P. De Armitt, and the members express themselves as well satisfied with the progress made. Two of the largest operators in the district—W. P. De Armitt and Francis L. Robinson—have consented to head the list, and the commissioners feel satisfied that the other operators will soon fall in line. It is claimed by the miners' officials, however, that the understanding was that the agreement meant 95 per cent. of the output of the district, whereas it is now said to mean 95 per cent. of the operators. They say it will be absolutely impossible to get 95 per cent. of the operators, as there are a great many operators mining on a small scale. President Dolan said that while he would do all in his power to assist the commissioners to secure the signatures of the operators to the agreement, he thought the proposition was a scheme of President De Armitt to keep his men at work and prolong the strike.

At Work on Prominent Men. General Little, of the Ohio arbitration board, said that every obstacle had been removed in the way of a settlement along the lines proposed, and that he had not heard of any operators who would not sign. Commissioner Edward Rigley and Horace Caley, of Illinois, left for Chicago last evening to see Col. W. P. Rend and J. W. Ellsworth, and if possible induce Colonel Rend to return to Pittsburg and use his influence among the operators to have the agreement signed. L. P. McCormack, of Indiana, another of the commissioners, left for Terre Haute this morning to see J. Smith Talley, to secure his cooperation. Talley is a heavy purchaser of Pittsburg coal. Last evening the commission sent a telegram to Senator Mark Hanna, asking him to lend his assistance in having the agreement adopted. The situation in the district among the miners remains unchanged.

West Virginia Men Going Out. Meantime the West Virginia situation is changing for the benefit of the strikers. A Huntington, W. Va., dispatch says: There is a decided change in the coal fields of southern West Virginia, and it is now stated for an absolute certainty that inside of forty-eight hours a majority of all the miners on the N. and W. and Chesapeake and Ohio railway will join the strikers. The organizers are now in both fields, and in the latter the Chesapeake, Belmont and Black Cat mines are idle, the miners, 600 in number, going out at noon yesterday. The N. and W. miners are still at work, but the strike representatives are confident that matters will come their way in a short time. On the Kanawha yesterday all the operators raised the price of mining one-fourth of a cent a bushel on soft, and one-half a cent on hard coal, but it is believed this will not hold the men in line.

Making a Counter Movement. A dispatch from Cincinnati says: An important counter movement against the organizers of the United Mine Workers now in West Virginia, was begun here yesterday by a conference of five operators in that state. They determined to give their miners an advance of 14 cents a ton above the present rates, and to make a corresponding increase in the price of coal at the mines. They have returned to ask all other operators in the state to do the same. It is the opinion of coal men here that their action will be approved and followed by the other operators in the state. The price of coal at the mines is raised to $1.25 per ton.

STATEMENT OF THE SITUATION.

Bathford Gives the Status of the Strike in Different States.

Columbus, O., July 16.—President Rathford and Secretary Pearce have issued an official bulletin, No. 1, to the miners, it being a review of the situation. The bulletin says: "Our fight for living wages now covers in whole or in part eight states of the Union. It is a general suspension and no local settlements will be authorized or recognized. The second week and the eighth day of our suspension brings with it greater assurance of ultimate victory than any previous day. Our forces are increasing every hour, our determination is unflinching, and our actions are law-abiding in every particular. The state and number of miners involved are as follows: Western Pennsylvania—Fully 20,000 miners have joined us for living wages, which makes suspension almost unanimous in every mine in the district. Work still continues in the central field, but steps will be taken in a few days looking to a suspension which it is believed will be successful.

"Ohio—Twenty-eight thousand miners have laid down their tools in their demand for living wages, making the suspension general excepting a few local mines. Indiana—Advises received yesterday report every mine and every miner in this state suspended. Eight thousand have joined the march for living wages. Illinois—Reports from this state are to the effect that suspension is practically general, and that miners are determined to continue the march until living wages are secured. West Virginia—About 3,000 miners have joined the movement. Reports from various sections of the state confirm the belief that miners will suspend. Eight organizers have left this city today for West Virginia. Supply of coal from that field will be cut off in a very few days.

"Kentucky and Tennessee—About 4,000 miners have suspended, others may be expected to follow. Kansas—Miners are all at work, but will hold a convention on Saturday. It is expected that the strike will be maintained.

Miners of the Pana, Ill., District—Order of the Police Commissioners of Kansas City, Kan., De Not Favor Full Equal Rights.

Springfield, Ill., July 16.—The miners in the Pana district have been offered increased wages by the operators, but have declined and will not return to work. The families of many of the miners are destitute, and the strikers have organized a commissary and are soliciting provisions of business men and farmers. Over 100 families are being given rations daily. There are 2,000 miners in the Pana district.

In Macoupin county, at Nilwood, the men accepted on Monday an advance of 10 per cent. per ton and went to work on the condition that they should strike when the men at Green Ridge struck. Three hundred miners assembled at Green Ridge Wednesday and induced the miners there to go out, and those at Nilwood followed. The Girard mine was the only one in operation yesterday in Macoupin county. The miners at the two mines at Taylorville, 150 in number, struck yesterday. At Decatur 250 miners are still at work and will probably continue so.

ORDER IS RAISING A ROW.

New Women of Kansas City, Kan., De Not Favor Full Equal Rights. Kansas City, July 16.—The order of the police commissioners of Kansas City, Kan., that women prisoners must work on the stone pile along with the men has caused a great commotion, and has not yet been put into effect. Perhaps it never may be. The reason it was not put into effect was that not a woman remained in jail to be sent to the rock pile. When it became certain that they would be compelled to do overalls and crack rock their male relatives appeared and paid their fines.

The Current Event club, an organization of women who discuss politics before each election, has expressed itself as immeasurably shocked at the proposition to make women break rock, and has called an indignation meeting to protest against the "threatened disgrace and degradation of womanhood." The members threaten that enforcement of the order means the retirement of the police commissioners from office at the first opportunity, and as women vote in Kansas municipal elections the threat is not regarded as altogether an idle one, and may have its desired effect.

Later—Women are not to be put to work on the rock piles with men in Kansas City, Kan. The board of police commissioners has rescinded its order in deference to popular opinion. The agitation here has developed the fact that the same rule is enforced by the police of Leavenworth, Kan.

CONFERENCE ON THE TARIFF.

Member of the Committee Talks of an Agreement Some Time Today.

Washington, July 16.—The tariff conference were in a more hopeful mood yesterday than Wednesday and one of the leading representatives of the senate expressed the opinion that the Republicans would be able to conclude their labors today and to summon the Democratic members by Saturday. This view he said was justified by the present appearance of things, but he added that there were still more contingencies that might arise to prevent so early an agreement and that it was impossible to say precisely when the end would be reached.

On the house side, on the other hand, among those in close touch with the conferees, it is asserted with the most positiveness that the house conferees have no intention of yielding anything to the senate on the house schedule and opinion is freely expressed that the deadlock will continue indefinitely until the senate yields.

The Democrats of the senate are concerned over the matter of a successor for Harris of Tennessee, who died last week. One vote is a big thing in the senate just now.

His Youth Saved His Neck.

Marion, Ill., July 16.—Steve Gill, 16 years old, has been found guilty of murder in the first degree and sentenced to life imprisonment. His age is all that saved his neck. Last February Gill visited Andrew Rader, a neighbor. They had always been on friendly terms, but while Rader was feeding his stock Gill killed and then robbed him. No defense was offered at the trial except a plea for mercy.

BENTON HARBOR, MICH., FRIDAY, JULY 16, 1897.

ONE CENT

BIG RAILROAD BRIDGE.

375 Tons of Steel Used in the Construction of the St. Joseph Valley Bridge.

IS NOW READY FOR TRAFFIC.

All the Bridges Between Benton Harbor and Buchanan are Now Ready for Business.

All the bridges on the Milwaukee, Benton Harbor & Columbus railway between Benton Harbor and Buchanan are completed.

Few people understand the difficulties to overcome in the construction of our large river bridges and less understand the cost and mode of procedure. In the first place, the right of crossing has to be obtained and if over navigable water, you are sure to meet with every and all kinds of objections. Some want one thing, others want everything and then are not quite satisfied, especially those who do business on their raging waters.

The bridge for the M. B. & C. railway over the St. Joseph river is not an exception to the troubles mentioned above, having experienced its delay in its right of crossing. However by patient perseverance this bridge unique in construction and very substantial has been completed.

The substructure consists of steel cylinders made in sections of six feet in length, those under the ends north and south are five feet interior diameter and those in midriver carrying the end of the two spans are seven feet in diameter. Those cylinders are put together by plates of steel around each joint, all of which is very strongly riveted together by three-fourth inch steel rivets. The section thus made is then placed in its exact location in the river every care being taken to keep them so until the final resting place is reached. As soon as cylinder is located it is heavily loaded with railroad or other iron, when two or more pumps are used to agitate and remove the soft material and sand or any other foreign matter not suitable for bearing purposes. When this has been thoroughly done piles were driven on the inside of cylinder. Those were of white oak thirty-five feet long, the points being nine inches or over and the butts sixteen inches or over, and they were driven to low water level and then secured to each other by steel rods and stays. The space between each pile and between pile and cylinder was very carefully filled with Portland cement concrete well packed and pounded in. This concrete was carried up to the top of cylinder on the top of which was placed large stones weighing nearly four ton each and on those stone an iron plate or shoe on which rests the steel bridge. Strange as it may seem to the uninitiated the end of every iron or steel bridge rests on a set of rollers. This is absolutely necessary to allow for expansion and contraction of the metal entering into its construction.

The railway side of the bridge is 14 feet in the clear and that for teams etc. is 18 feet. Thus the span is very wide and consequently heavy and costly. Every part is perfect in design and workmanship. The distance from lower side of floor beam to water is about 35 feet and from top of top chord to water about 70 feet. In the construction of the bridge proper there is used about 300 tons of steel, and in bridge and cylinders about 375 tons of steel. In filling the cylinders, which are from top to bottom about 54 feet deep, there is used 500 barrels of cement, 300 yards of crushed stone and 75 yards of sand, 60 white oak piles from 35 to 40 feet long. Those piles were driven with a steam pile driving machine, the average number of blows struck each pile being 200 with hammer weighing 2,800 pounds.

The steel structure was built by the American bridge company, of Chicago, the locating and sinking of cylinders and other substructural work, also the erecting of other structures was done by George E. Thomas, Chicago. The long trestle leading up to the bridge, also that over Yellow Creek and Cemetery Ravine, was built by the Crouch construction company, under the supervision of Mr. Thomas.

From the new bridge a fine view of the St. Joseph river can be had.

The track of the St. Joseph Valley railroad will be completed from Buchanan to Berrien Springs tomorrow night and the first train will be run over the new track Monday.

Niles Sun: Barnum's circus will be in Niles. This great and gigantic circus will pass through Niles on the morning of August 7, en route from South Bend to Benton Harbor, and it will only be here a few minutes. Reserved seats are now on sale.

AT BERRIEN SPRINGS.

Amateur Actors Will Present An Excellent Play.

"Tony, the Convict," a five act drama, will be played by Berrien Springs talent for the benefit of the band, Saturday, July 17. This play is said to be the finest ever produced by amateurs. The plot is so strong that it plays itself. The management have spared no little pains in selecting the characters, and it is hoped that they may be rewarded for their exertions.

LIKE COL. BEAN'S CASE.

Supreme Court Site on Saginaw Street Railway.

The Union Street Railway company of Saginaw was denied a writ of mandamus by the supreme court to compel Judge Snow of Saginaw to issue an injunction restraining the city authorities from removing its tracks from the streets of the city on account of its failure to pay its paving taxes and to perform certain other duties imposed by its franchise. The city claimed the right to forfeit the franchise and to remove the company's tracks. The company owes the city over seven thousand dollars for paving. Its defense was that

Cream of tartar comes from grapes. It is clean and wholesome.

It is the best ingredient known for baking powders.

It makes light biscuit, white and without a bitter taste.

"Cleveland's" is a pure cream of tartar powder.

Guarantee.

Grocers are authorized to give back your money if you do not find Cleveland's the best baking powder you have ever used.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., N.Y.

It was unable to pay and the insolvent condition of the company was urged as an excuse for its non-compliance with the ordinance. The supreme court says, however, that the contract gives the city the right to take action which it threatens and that the rule is that he who fails to perform, from whatever cause, must suffer the consequences he has agreed to suffer. Corporations form no exceptions to the rule. When a party confesses that he cannot perform his contract, equity will not interfere to prevent the other party from enforcing his legal rights.

STILL PROGRESSING.

The Wonderful Record of the Twin City Telephone Exchange.

The progress in the business of the Twin City Telephone exchange continues without abatement. The company have already this week secured 15 new subscribers which makes a list of upwards of 350, one of the most remarkable showings ever made in a like enterprise.

This advancement is largely due to the business capacity of the men who have had control of the enterprise, but the excellent service of the new exchange also must come in for consideration in determining the causes for the remarkable success of the undertaking.

The new company is issuing a revised directory with which it will provide the subscribers at once. The continual increase of subscribers necessitates a new and larger directory, and within a month at the rate the subscribers are increasing it is possible that a second revision will be necessary.

The Twin City telephone exchange has made the most phenomenal record in the history of the telephone exchanges. There was never before a case where the Bell company suffered such a complete knockout as here. Its service is so crippled that it is practically useless, and a place on their list is a mockery at present.

ATTORNEY DELONG'S SIDE.

Explains the Claim of Mrs. Kitron Against the City.

In regard to the claim of Mrs. Lydia Kitron against the city for injury from what she claims was a defective sidewalk, her attorney, Nelson DeLong says our head lines in our issue of the 13 does Mrs. Kitron injustice. For he says, "when she filed her claim last winter for $150 she had not consulted any lawyer and did not know what her rights were; nor was she certain (as she is now) that she would be permanently disabled."

"She did not even know that the city charter required her claim to be verified by her oath; and her physician, Dr. Bell, who was then as now mayor of the city, did not inform her what her rights were. Your article also says, 'She asked the city for $150 but her claim was rejected.'"

"The records of the common council show that her claim was referred to some one to look after, but the common council so far as its record goes did not 'reject' the claim, they only neglected to take final action. I think if the council had settled with Mrs. Kitron for $150 which she claimed for her physicians and nurse's bills, Benton Harbor might have saved some thousands of dollars. If Mrs. Kitron's claim is a legal one, she is as much entitled to recover for it as she would be if she had loaned the city so much of her money."

DR. CRANE IS DEAD.

One of the Saddest Deaths in Local History.

Dr. Harrie M. Crane died at the home of his brother in the eastern part of the state yesterday. His wife at the time was helpless in bed, suffering from spinal trouble.

Dr. Crane came here from Adrian about six months ago and opened offices in the Jones & Sonner block. He did a flourishing practice and was a successful and skillful physician. His health began to fail and after practicing for three months he was compelled to stop work. He was afflicted with a complication of heart and lung trouble.

When Dr. Crane died yesterday the news was broken to the wife, who is at their home on Pipestone street, by a series of telegrams. First the wires told he was very low, then that he could not live, that he was worse and when Mrs. Crane asked by telegraph for the whole truth it was told that her husband was dead. He was at rest when the first of the dispatches was sent out.

Mrs. Crane was injured by a fall a few years ago and has been an invalid ever since. She cannot walk, but if her family physician comes for her she will go to the funeral of her husband which will be held at Adrian. Neighbors are trying to console the grief and disease stricken woman.

THE WEATHER.

Generally Fair tonight and tomorrow.

SEVERAL newspapers about here have copied the prosperity editorial of THE EVENING NEWS. They all stole it and gave no credit.

THE EVENING NEWS is fast losing confidence in Vice President Deam of the Tunnel road. No paper ever supported a man more loyally than THE NEWS has supported Mr. Deam but his evident present purpose of rule or ruin to the railway project is not calculated to strengthen him in the sympathy of the public. Mr. Deam now acts like a man who would rather have his way than have the road built.

NEWS OF THE STATE.

New Michigan postmasters: Samuel C. Kirkbride, Clare; Carl Pickert, Corunna, and Allen N. Armstrong, Cassopolis.

The Paw Paw Courier tells of a man who was in that village last week wearing a pair of boots which were 50 years old. They were of buckskin and while they did not have the modern toothpick toe, they looked well and did not have a break in them.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—Miss Eugenie Webster of Berrien Springs is visiting friends in the city. —Misses Jessie and Maggie McCrimmon of South Haven are visiting Mrs. J. J. Miller. —George E. Thomas, the engineer who built the big bridge across the St. Joseph river, will leave for his home in Chicago this evening. Mr. Thomas has made many friends here and the people see him go with many regrets. Declined the invitation. A well known professor is noted for his absentmindedness. He and a friend, another old professor, used to take a daily walk together and discuss matters quite beyond the comprehension of ordinary mortals. One day when the walking was very bad professor No. 1 was on his way to the corner at which he and his friend always met when he encountered a young student whose face he recognized dimly, having seen it every day for some weeks in his morning class. He accordingly hailed his pupil, who was wading through the mud to get across the street. "Have you seen my friend?" he asked. "Yes, sir," replied the student, pausing respectfully in the midst of a mud puddle to remove his cap. "He is at the corner waiting for you." "Good," replied the professor, looking over his spectacles. "I thank you. You may be seated."—Strand Magazine.

An Analysis.

"What did that young man call this poem?" asked the editor. "A satire," "And that implies that he is showing the uselessness and absurdity of something." "I believe so." "Well, there's only one guess that I can make concerning this, and that is that it is a satire on poetry."—Washington Star.

A Delicate Compliment.

No more elegant compliment was ever paid to a preacher than that of King Louis XIV of France to Jean Baptiste Massillon, bishop of Clermont. Said he: "I have heard many great preachers, and the effect they produced on me was that I felt thoroughly satisfied with them. Every time I heard you I was dissatisfied with myself."

ANOTHER MISTAKE.

Made By Congressman Hamilton at Sawyer.

Republicans who have their ears to the ground have been warned that Congressman E. L. Hamilton made a grievous error when he laid the Sawyer postoffice in the lap of Louis N. Tatro.

The man whom Mr. Hamilton's friends expected he would appoint was David Knight, who conducts a small mercantile business in that village. The appointment of Mr. Tatro, therefore, came like an electric shock and set a hundred tongues wagging against the congressman.

Mr. Knight claims that he had been promised the office as fairly as any promise can be made. He relied upon the promise and made no effort to get any indorsements or indicate to Mr. Hamilton in any way that he was the choice of the patrons of the office. Mr. Knight supposed that the congressman comprehended the situation there and when the time arrived would direct the lightning's stroke to the proper object.

The surprise the appointment of Mr. Tatro brought to republican leaders was occasioned by the fact that while Mr. Knight has always been a faithful worker for republican victory Mr. Tatro has practically been unheard of in a political way. He is not regarded as having always exerted himself to aid in the political success of his party, and therefore was not considered entitled to any of the spoils.

It is impossible for Mr. Hamilton's friends to understand what impulse ruled him in his selection of Mr. Tatro and they predict that the turning down of Mr. Knight will augment the ominous number who are arraying themselves in opposition to Mr. Hamilton.

As good as killing laughter.
The fast read on, and when you've done
You'll find yourself much better.
My name will make you die with fun
If I will only let her.
Lestways, you'll have a perfect fit
(Laugh here), as said the tailor,
If her exhaustless well of wit
Doesn't dry up and fall her.
By jobs can't fail to make you well,
For they are simply killing
(Laugh here), as said the tailor,
If her exhaustless well of wit
Doesn't dry up and fall her.
The job's on you! (Now snicker.)
If you'll just follow up the game,
You'll die with mirth the quicker.
Some say this life's but one huge joke,
If people only knew it.
(Now, here just double up and choke
And you will never rue it.)
Now, don't take time to catch your breath,

A BIT OF JEALOUSY.

Near the Pare Monocan is a pretty little house that seems to hide in a bush of clambake the home of a young and charming widow of 22. The sacrament of baptism gave her the name of Louise and the sacrament of marriage made her the Countess of Viry. She had as a pet and constant companion a delicate little Mexican poodle, all white and woolly, to which was given as its sole nourishment a lump of sugar in the morning and a sweet biscuit in the evening. His name was Nito.
It was 4 o'clock. Louise was running along the pebbly paths of her garden, dithering among the somebodies like a butterfly.
Nito playfully pursued his mistress with barks of delight, at times seizing with his teeth the ruffle of her blue muslin dress, and, propping himself upon his paws, pulled at it with all his strength.
In the midst of their play M. Jacques de Beauchamp entered the garden. The little widow, perceiving him, hid herself behind an orange tree. But Jacques ran to her and, surprising her, kissed her on the forehead.
"Ah, M. de Beauchamp," she cried, "that is not nice of you."
Louise was of medium height. She had very small hands and feet, white shoulders and thick black hair. Her teeth were so white that when she laughed they glistened like pearls. How well she carried her widowhood and in a way to honor herself! The young maid in a generally too timid and bashful. She blushes and casts down her eyes at the least word of compliment. The widow, on the other hand, has the right to hear everything, and when one speaks to her of love she knows readily what that means.
Louise leaned upon the arm of M. de Beauchamp, and they went into the parlor, followed by Nito, who threw some jealous glances at him who was to be the future husband of his mistress. Of course the poor little animal could not have known that. It must have been a jealous instinct.
Louise and Jacques agreed so well that they had planned to be married. Nevertheless each of them had a defect. M. de Beauchamp was jealous and Mme. de Viry was coquettish.
"Louise," he said to her, "you will drive me to despair. You say that you love me, but how can I believe it when I see you smiling at every admirer and giving to every comer so sweet a reception? When I see you in society so full of life and gaiety and hear your ringing laughter from the midst of a circle of ardent admirers, it is impossible for me to tell you the tortures and anguish I endure."
"And what can I do, dear?" replied Louise. "I am gay, it is true, but is that a crime? And why should I be cold to those who approach me only to say pleasant and agreeable things?"
"You are a coquette, and your laugh makes me despair, because if you laugh thus against my wish it must be only to show your teeth. You know very well how adorable you are when in laughing with a fixed purpose you throw back your head and show your pretty white neck."
"But what must I do to prove my love for you? It is becoming desperate. Ask of me what you please, but do not ask me not to laugh any more. I am only happy when I am glad and free to be light hearted."
M. de Beauchamp assumed a solemn air.
"You said to me one evening that you would make for me the sacrifice of your life. I do not ask so much as that. But listen. Do you wish to make me the happiest man on earth?"
"You have but to speak."
"Even at the price of suffering?"
"Yes, at any price."
"Well, then, make me the sacrifice of one tooth."
"What are you demanding of me? It is barbarous."
"Only a tooth. The smallest one in the front. And afterward you may laugh as much as you please."
"But you will think I am ugly and will not love me any more."
"I swear to you there is no other way to secure my happiness."
The countess rang the bell. John, her valet, took her orders and came back a quarter of an hour later with a gentleman carrying in his hand a leather case such as is used by surgeons.
"Who is that person?" asked M. de Beauchamp.
"The dentist, sir."

As good as killing laughter.
The fast read on, and when you've done
You'll find yourself much better.
My name will make you die with fun
If I will only let her.
Lestways, you'll have a perfect fit
(Laugh here), as said the tailor,
If her exhaustless well of wit
Doesn't dry up and fall her.
By jobs can't fail to make you well,
For they are simply killing
(Laugh here), as said the tailor,
If her exhaustless well of wit
Doesn't dry up and fall her.
The job's on you! (Now snicker.)
If you'll just follow up the game,
You'll die with mirth the quicker.
Some say this life's but one huge joke,
If people only knew it.
(Now, here just double up and choke
And you will never rue it.)
Now, don't take time to catch your breath,
But roar and scream with laughter,
And how I've tickled you to death
I may explain hereafter.
—Smile Pickhardt in Boston Globe.

"Louise," he said, throwing himself at her feet, "do you love me still?"
"I have sworn to love you always, and the stiller you are the better," she answered.
"Will you prove to me the sincerity of your words?"
"I ask nothing else."
"Well, then, if you love me have the dentist put in a new tooth."
"What folly is this?" said Louise, weeping. "I was right when I said that you would not love me any more. That is just like you men. And you reproach us for being capricious."
"Louise, I beg you to forgive me. I curse my jealousy—my foolishness!"
"So you really are regretting the weakness with which I acceded to your caprice?"
"I am desolate and full of remorse."
"You recognize the cruelty of your unreasonable request?"
"I will reproach myself for it all my life."
"Would you be happy if I had disobeyed you?"
"I would give anything for that."
The little countess gave a burst of laughter, which showed all her teeth complete.
"What does this mean?" asked M. de Beauchamp, holding in his fingers the medallion in which was incased as a souvenir the little pearl of the sacrifice. The countess opened the mouth of Nito, saying:
"Here is the victim."
"Ah," cried M. de Beauchamp. "You never loved me." —Waverley Magazine.

Blunders of Novelists.
Will M. Clemens catalogues in The Home Magazine some of the blunders of foreign novelists, a few of which we reproduce:
"Thackeray, who was exceedingly anxious to get everything right, was perpetually getting things wrong. Names are mixed, the hero is sometimes called by the name of one of the other characters, and in at least one place an important personage is called by a name from another novel. This was Philip Firmin, whom he called Olive Newcome. Nor was this his worst blunder, for in another story he killed and buried old Lady Kew and later brought her again on the scene for the purpose of rounding off a corner of the story."
"Thackeray, in his 'Virginians,' makes Mme. Edmond of Castlewood, in Westmoreland county, a neighbor of Washington at Mount Vernon, on the Potomac, 50 miles distant, and a regular attendant at public worship at Williamsburg, half way between the York and James rivers, fully 125 miles from Mount Vernon. In the same book occurs the following: 'There was such a negro chorus about the house as might be heard across the Potomac.' The nearest bank of the Potomac was 57 miles away."
"Anthony Trollope was heartily laughed at by his acquaintances for causing Andy Scott to 'come whistling up the street with a cigar in his mouth.' But what is a slight error of this sort in comparison with Amelia B. Edwards' description, in 'Hand and Glove,' of her hero 'passing backward and forward like an over-seer on a Massachusetts cotton plantation.'
"George Eliot, whose knowledge of science is highly commended, in 'The Mill on the Floss' makes the odd blunder of having the boat overtaken in midstream by a mass of drift floating at a more rapid rate than the frail craft—a physical impossibility."
Geography.
"How did you get on in school today, Robert?"
"Tired Child (wearily)—Oh, I was wrong in my geography again! I forgot whether the Putumayo joined the Amazon east or west of the confluence of the Marañon and Ucayale rivers."
"Same Child (years later, husband and father)—What do you want to know, my son?"
"Son (struggling over a primary geography)—Where is the Amazon river, father?"
"Father (after long reflection)—I think it's somewhere in Africa—or Asia. I forget which.—Pearson's Weekly."
John Howard Payne.
The life of John Howard Payne extended over 60 years, from 1799 to 1859. The only literary work by which he is now remembered is 'Home, Sweet Home,' which was originally a song in an opera entitled 'Clara, the Maid of Arona.' The libretto was written by...

DEATH AT THE HANDS OF A SOUTHERN MOB.

DEATH OF HIS DEATH IN DOUBT.

... Says He Was First Stamped ... Then Filled with Bullets, Then ... Another Says He Was Tied to a ... and Tortured to Death by Best ... The Swedish Crime He Com ... and a Young Woman.

... Ala., July 16.—The negro, ... Williams, who outraged and ... Miss Rene Williams, an 18- ... white girl, at West Point, ... has been captured near ... this county. A mob has started ... to West Point with the negro and ... to burn him at the stake on the ... of his crime.

... Tenn., Tuesday ... Near West Point, Tenn., Tuesday ... Miss Rene Williams was ... brutally murdered in the woods ... her home. Yesterday afternoon ... Williams, her murderer and ... was captured near Pruittton ... last night he explained his crime in ... of West Point in the presence ... people. Williams was riddled with ... and burned to ashes. Before a ... was fired he was knocked down ... and stamped to death. Then the crowd ... back and those who had pistols fired ... after volley at him.

... the Microscopist. ... The crowd then gathered wood and ... a fire over him watched the ... scene until the murderer was ... ashes. For two days and nights ... men armed and determined have ... the country for miles. Several ... times passed within shooting distance ... of him, but he escaped. He was ... within sixteen miles of the ... of his crime. A man named Clark ... to whom he applied for tobacco held him ... for the crowd. Williams was first traced ... to Iron City, where he traded the young ... lady's belt to a negro woman for a ... night's lodging. He was later seen at ... and several shots were fired.

... This Says the Wretch Was Tortured. ... All trace of him was lost until Wednesday afternoon, when searchers came upon him three miles south of Pruittton. He had been in the woods without food over two days and running most of the time, so that he was exhausted. The crowd quickly took him back to the scene of his brutal crime, tied him to the same tree that he had tied his victim to when he outraged her, and there gave him a torturing death. The mob was composed of most substantial men. The victim was shortly to have been married to a young man in Nashville. Her intended husband came down from Nashville yesterday and was at West Point to meet the crowd of avengers and assist them.

... How His Victim Was Found. ... The young lady left her home early Tuesday morning to pick berries. When she did not return for dinner her friends went in search of her. She was found ... and tied to a sapling with a leather strap around her neck. One of her eyes had been gouged out and in her tightly clutched hands were leaves and grass. All around the ground showed that a terrible struggle had taken place. When the negro was captured his face and arms were terribly scratched and torn.

REPUBLICAN LEAGUE ADJOURNS.

... Quite a Struggle Over Next Place of Meeting, Omaha Finally Winning. ... Detroit, July 16.—The feature of the closing day of the Republican League convention was a struggle over next place of meeting. Omaha, which had been recommended nearly unanimously by the committee having the matter in charge, had the pull all along, but Baltimore made an extremely hard fight for the honor, and the disappointed Maryland people were not disposed to give up their efforts even after the convention had recorded itself for Omaha. Chicago, Dallas, and Los Angeles, were candidates which could be chronicled only among the "also rans."

... Secretary M. J. Dowling, who had done distinguished duty for two years, was very easily re-elected, according to the programme of the principal state, and the Illinois and Michigan delegates were unable to make any great showing for Chapin and Blakeley, their respective candidates. There was no semblance of a contest over the nominal position of treasurer. The disorder of the convention throughout was its most remarkable feature, and the younger and more inexperienced elements were not by any means wholly responsible for it.

... The interruptions of speakers who had regularly secured the floor and begun their remarks were so common as to be an almost constant occurrence, and the tact and energy of the presiding officers were taxed to preserve anything like order and keep clear of parliamentary entanglements. While the enthusiasm of the league men was the cause of more or less of the chaotic situation in a parliamentary sense, it served to illustrate their earnest interest in the affairs of the league and their party, which interest was evidently largely stimulated by the convention of 1897.

... Government Railway Ownership. ... Washington, July 16.—While the house resolution relating to the settlement of the Pacific railway deal was under consideration in the senate yesterday Allen urged government ownership and operation of the Union Pacific road, declaring that it would reduce passenger and freight rates from 50 to 60 per cent. Gear insisted that government ownership would increase passenger and freight rates 45 per cent.

... Brandenburg Must Face a Trial. ... Chicago, July 16.—To clear himself of the charge of perjury brought against him by Lucius Clark Henry Brandenburg must run the gantlet of the grand jury. Justice Underwood declined to dismiss the case, and bound the electric street car circuit inventor over to the criminal court in the sum of $1,000. The bond was signed almost immediately by John W. E. Thomas.

... Important Bill About Whisky. ... Washington, July 16.—In the senate today ... secured the passage of a bill ...

As Illustrated by Sherman's Diplomacy. Not Relished

BY OUR COUSINS OVER THE DRINK.

London Editors Say Such Things Will Happen Once Too Often for John Bull's Patience and Then, the Deluge of War—Serious View Taken of Being Called a Liar and a Horsechief by Our Secretary of State—Newspaper Comment.

London, July 16.—The evening newspapers are in a rage over the reply of Secretary Sherman to Lord Salisbury in the seal controversy in which Sherman makes frequent and distinct imputations of bad faith against England. The half-penny journals issue sensational placards bearing such lines as "Twisting the Lion's Tail Again" and "America Shrieks at England." The more serious papers deal with the situation editorially. The Globe in an article headed "Yankee Insolence" says: "The memories of Cleveland's impertinent message are all revived by the extraordinary and insulting dispatch which Mr. Sherman has permitted to find its way into the papers. Waiving the merits of the question, which fortunately is one for the naturalists, the astonishing tone of Mr. Sherman is in defiance not only of the usages of diplomacy but of the maxims of ordinary civility."

Would Give Hay His Passports. "Englishmen will be glad to see that Lord Salisbury has, so far as patrol of the sea fisheries is concerned, treated the message as though it had never been sent. If he were to go a step farther and to direct Sir Julian Pauncefote to intimate to Mr. McKinley that her majesty's government declines to receive dispatches couched in such language and could only reply to the next by handing Colonel Hay his passports the action would be indorsed by the complete approval of the nation."

Declares War Inevitable. The Post takes a very serious view of the matter. It says: "Every indication points to the certainty that Great Britain will be compelled to fight for her existence against the United States as soon as an American government believes that war can be safely begun. Our statesmen must search their consciences and make sure that in any controversy that may be raised their attitude is just and fair. They should concede so long as there is any reasonable doubt concerning the justice of their position, but they must be prepared for an appeal to force. Our duty is to make sure that it comes by no fault of ours, and that it shall find us united that prepared. The respite will in all probability be the time needed for the creation of a more powerful American fleet—say three or four years—or for the creation of a political combination with some naval power—say in as many months. The organization to sustain such a contest may be short. The time to face the situation is not in three years or three months, but now."

Chronicle Censures Our Methods. The Daily Chronicle thinks Lord Salisbury would be justified in returning Secretary Sherman's dispatch on the ground that the British government does not receive communications couched in such terms. If he does not, it is because American diplomatists assume a certain liberty of language not used by other countries. The Chronicle proceeds to severely censure the methods of American diplomacy and says: "The fact that some nations, like ours, are fortunate in being favored with the presence of a diplomatist who is no less a gentleman in public than in private life is not sufficient to remove this slur and danger."

Suggests That Recent Misgivings About Sherman Were Correct.

The Times, seemingly not knowing the fact that probably President McKinley saw the dispatch before it was sent, remarks in an editorial: "It is impossible to doubt the authenticity of the document. It is a manifest attempt, in offensive language, to fasten upon England a charge of bad faith. If this was not Secretary Sherman's intention he has shown himself singularly unfitted for the delicate and responsible duties of his office. If it was, then the statement he recently made repudiating the charge of bad faith was deliberately misleading. When he was first appointed to his present office doubts were expressed as to the wisdom of the choice. If he really sent this dispatch they will be fully confirmed." The writer then suggests that the dispatch was published with the connivance, if not the active aid, of the jingo senators, who were under a solemn obligation to treat it as confidential.

The Times in its financial article, referring to Sherman's communication, says: "Mr. Sherman's dispatch is not regarded seriously, but the fact that American statesman—or rather politicians—think it useful from time to time to indulge in language of scarcely veiled hostility will not pass unnoticed, and will add to the prevailing indisposition of prudent investors to buy American securities."

The St. James Gazette says: "The publication is a further demonstration of certain trans-Atlantic methods of diplomacy which may one day involve consequence much more serious. A dispatch couched in terms of studied discourtesy and menace towards this country is a small matter. We are used to that the real gist of the situation is the fact that the United States considers that kind of language safe. But it is not safe, and after some affront, more or less flagrant, we may some day find that we cannot yield to them; and then might arise a situation of the gravest peril."

Seal Conference To Be Held.

London, July 16.—While among the general public here the tone of Secretary Sherman's letter to Ambassador Hay regarding the Behring sea seal regulations is greatly resented, the correspondent of the Associated Press is in a position to say that whatever criticism the British government may have to make on the phraseology of the communication the letter has not in any way affected unfavorably the position of the British government.

Duels are fought in Germany in any other country. Most of them, however, are student duels, and take place in nothing more serious than dashed cheeks or torn scapula. German university towns little and Göttingen are most devoted to dueling. In Göttingen the number of duels averages one a day, year in and year out. On one day several years ago 18 duels were fought in Göttingen in 24 hours. In Jena the record for one day in recent times is 21. Fully 4,000 duels are fought every year in the German empire. In addition to these there are the more serious duels between officers and civilians. Among these of mature years the annual number of duels is about 100.

Next to Germany, France is most given to the dueling habit. She has even year uncounted meetings, "merely to satisfy honor"—that is, merely to give two men the opportunity to wipe out insults by crossing swords or firing pistols in such a way as to preclude the slightest chance of injury. In the duels these meetings are not reckoned as they are far less perilous than the German student duels. Of the serious duels, France can boast fully 1,000 from New Year's to New Year's. The majority of these are among army officers. More than half of these result in wounds, nearly 80 per cent in serious wounds.

Italy has had 3,759 duels in the last 10 years and has lost 50 citizens by death on the field of honor. Some 3,400 of these meetings were consummated with sabers, 179 with pistols, 90 with rapiers and 1 with revolvers. In 1974 more the insult was given in newspaper articles or in public letters regarding literary quarrels. More than 700 principals were insulted by word of mouth. Political discussions led to 559, religious discussions to 29. Women were the cause of 189. Quarrels at the gambling table were responsible for 189.

A summary shows that, as regards numbers, the sequence of dueling countries is: Germany, France, Italy, Austria, Russia. As regards dead liners of duels Italy comes first. Then come Germany, France, Russia and Austria in the order named. For the most serious duels the pistol is the favorite weapon in all five countries.—New York Sun.

OBJECTS OF WORSHIP.

It is in That Way That Savages Usually Regard Meteorites.

Savages, whenever they come across meteorites of large size, are apt to regard them as objects of worship. Such, however, was not the dignified fate of a very remarkable specimen that is now in the National museum. This strange meteorite is four feet in diameter, weighing 1,400 pounds approximately, and has the shape of a ring. It was found in the Santa Catarina mountains, and for a long time was used as an anvil by Mexicans at Tucson. In this employment it was discovered by Dr. Irwin of the United States army, who bought it for a small sum and gave it to the Smithsonian institution. Doubtless the existence of this meteorite originally was largely stony, but the stony parts became disintegrated and disappeared when it fell, leaving the ring of iron. Of 400 meteors that have been seen actually to fall, only about a dozen were metallic, the rest being mainly of stony material, though containing more or less iron.

On the other hand, nearly all of the meteorites picked up in a casual way are masses of metal. It is probably the case that a great majority of such bodies are stony, but meteorites of that description do not attract notice when lying on the ground. All of these facts are extremely interesting in view of the belief now entertained by science that the composition of meteorites throws light upon the make up of the terrestrial globe. In fact, according to this theory, the make up of the earth is much like that of the average meteorite. Obviously the moment this assumption is made the study of the structure of meteorites comes to have extraordinary importance, for man's knowledge of the planet on which he lives is restricted almost entirely to the surface of it. The interior of the earth remain almost unknown.—Washington Post.

Fort Princess Victoria.

The London Lady tells this amusing anecdote of Queen Victoria's childhood: The Duchess of Kent was Queen Victoria's mother, and there is an anecdote which tells that there was in the Duke of Kent's household a gentleman called Mr. Brown. The princess' father called him Brown, so the princess imitated him, and used to call him Brown, but the duchess, her mother, said she was not to call him Brown, but Mr. Brown, and also she would send her to bed. The next morning the princess said, "Good morning, Brown, and good night, for I am going to bed now."
